

The Prehistoric Society Europa day-conference 2008
Britons in the Celtic World: Contrasting Perspectives

Saturday, May 17, 2008, 9.30 am

Martin Wood Lecture Theatre, Department of Physics, University of Oxford, Parks Rd, Oxford

SPECIAL REDUCED STUDENT RATE

The 2008 Europa prizewinner is Professor Sir Barry Cunliffe, who retired in November 2007 after 35 years as Professor of European Archaeology at the University of Oxford. Starting in 2008, the annual Europa Lecture, given by the prizewinner, will form the centrepiece of a day-conference on a related theme.

This, the first of our new annual Europa day-conferences will draw together archaeologists, linguists, and geneticists, featuring two speakers from each discipline with rather different views, and culminating in Professor Cunliffe's own lecture, entitled A Race Apart? Insularity and Connectivity.

Celts in Archaeology

9.30–10.15 Prof. John Waddell: Irish windows on the Iron Age

10.15–11.00 Dr Brendan O'Connor: Room 3 revisited: aspects of the archaeological evidence for relations between Britain and continental Europe during the earlier 1st millennium BC

11.00–11.30 Coffee

Celts in Linguistics

11.30–12.15 Prof. Peter Schrijver: Languages as a key to prehistory: the case of Britain and the Celts

12.15–13.00 Prof. John Koch: Celticization from the West? The view from Tartessos

13.00–14.00 Lunch

Celts in Genetics

14.00–14.45 Prof. Sir Walter Bodmer: The genetic structure of the British population

14.45–15.30 Prof. Stephen Oppenheimer: Celts: British aboriginals or minority invaders up the Atlantic coast? A genetic perspective

15.30–16.00 Tea

16.00–16.30 Prehistoric Society AGM

16.30–16.45 Presentation of the Europa Prize

16.45–17.45

The Europa Lecture 2008: Professor Sir Barry Cunliffe

A Race Apart? Insularity and Connectivity

The lecture will be followed by a wine reception

IMPORTANT: Please note that entry to the Europa lecture itself is FREE to members, £3 on the door to non-members not attending the full day

Please book me student places for the Europa conference including tea/coffee & buffet lunch at £15 (member)/£20 (non-member inc Europa lecture)

Please book me places including tea/coffee only at £10 (member)/£15 (non-member inc Europa lecture)

My cheque for £ enclosed (made payable to the Prehistoric Society*) *The Prehistoric society is a registered charity No. 1000567

Name: Email: Phone:

Address:

Please return with remittance to Tessa Machling, Prehistoric Society, c/o Institute of Archaeology, 31-34 Gordon Sq, London WC1H 0PY