

International Network Optimization Conference

May 20-22, 2013
Tenerife, Spain

We invite you to join the next "International Network Optimization Conference" (INOC 2013) to be held in Costa Adeje (Tenerife, Spain), May 20-22, 2013. It is the conference of the "European Network Optimization Group" (ENOG), a working group of the "Association of Operational Research Societies" (EURO).

INOC is an international scientific conference that provides a high quality forum for the presentation of mathematical models, methodologies and computational results, and for the exchange of ideas and scientific discussions on advanced applications and technologies in Network Optimization and related problems. Previous editions of INOC have taken place in:

- INOC 2011: Hamburg, Germany, June 13-16, 2011
- INOC 2009: Pisa, Italy, April 26-29, 2009
- INOC 2007: Spa, Belgium, April 22-25, 2007
- INOC 2005: Lisbon, Portugal, March 20-23, 2005
- INOC 2003: Paris, France, October 27-29, 2003

INOC 2013 is intended to be again a forum for researchers and practitioners working in the area of Network Optimization and related problems. We invite you to present your recent developments, both theoretical results and applications, in the pleasant scenario of Tenerife Island.
